THE VALUE OF IMPORTS.

An official statement of the value of imports for the first nine months of the current fiscal year is published. It shows the total value to be $486,805,062, against $643,737,437 for the same months in the last fiscal year, a falling off of $157,432,385.

The falling off has been proportionately great in free as well as in dutiable articles, as the following examples show: In dutiable chemicals the importations have been $4,806,000 less than in 1893, in cotton manufactures $3,606,000 less, in flax manufactures $7,221,000, in fruits and nuts $2,925,000, in glass and glassware $2,049,000, in tin plate $2,892,000, in other metals $5,800,000, in jewelry $3,890,000, in leather goods $10,925,000, in silk manufactures $10,925,000, in tobacco $4,124, in wines $2,390,000, in wood and manufactures of wood $2,487,000, in raw wools $12,469,000, and in woolen manufactures $14,740,000.

In articles on the free list the decrease has been $3,256,000 in chemicals, drugs and dyes, $3,730,000 in hides and skins, $1,466,000 in india rubber, $2,960,000 in silver bearing ore, $14,765,000 in raw silks, $5,526,000 in textile grasses, and $6,998,500 in tin.

Coffee and sugar, both of which are on the free list, are the only imported articles which show an increase this year over last. In the last nine months we paid for coffee $66,285,000, which is $10,528,000 more than for the corresponding period of last year, and this year the value of imported sugar amounts to the snug sum of $83,109,121.

As we do not produce more than one-half the wool required for clothing and the falling off in the value of importations of that article, raw and manufactured, in nine months has been over $27,000,000 the inference is that the people are wearing old clothes or cotton goods. It is surmised, however, that there has been a great increase in the quantity of shoddy imported. The thrifty manufacturers of New England use, according to report, from fifty to ninety per cent of imported woolen rags, worked into shoddy, in the manufacture of woolen goods. This, it is claimed, accounts to a great extent for the low price of wool in the United States, which to-day is two or three cents lower than the tariff. In the interest of the manufacturer and against the interest of the woolgrower shoddy is admitted free; yet woolgrowers do not protest against it, and no Congressmen, except Jerry Simpson, seems to care to antagonize the manufacturers by exposing the fraud, and he has been roundly denounced for doing so.

A GOOD MOVE.

The manufacturers, merchants and business men generally of Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and other Northwestern States are making an effort to encourage the use of home manufactures. They propose to organize the Northwestern Home Trade Association, and circulars are being sent out to business men asking them to meet in convention at Minneapolis, May 23d, to arrange details. This movement should be encouraged. Everybody should countenance an effort to give the preference to home products. A very effective way to do this would be to remonetize silver. Europe, we are told, does not want silver money. Therefore if we have money in the United States that foreign countries do not want, but which will pass current at home, we encourage home producers and manufacturers. Unfortunately however, nearly all those who profess to want the country to live within itself by developing its own resources, insist upon having only such money as Europe demands. Every one who asks that a high tariff wall, which foreign producers cannot scale, be built around the country is in favor of money that foreigners are not only willing, but eager to take in exchange for their commodities.

THE PACIFIC BANK.

The Pacific Bank of San Francisco, which was conducted by Dr. McDonald of Vinegar Bitters fame, appears to have been one of the rottenest banking institutions in the country. Its principal object for the last few years seems to have been to swindle depositors. Money placed in the bank was used by the managers on private account, and when the bank was about to close its doors the Assistant Cashier drew $14,000 and started for New York giving out to the Directors that his trunk had been broken open and the money stolen.

The Grand Jury has been investigating the affairs of the bank, and that the management was crooked is indicated by the fact that three of the Directors, namely R. H. McDonald, Jr., H. S. Gravez and Charles Montgomery, and the Assistant Cashier, Frank V. McDonald, have been indicted. These men were connected with the People's Home Savings Bank, which seems to have been a back-action of the Pacific Bank, as the management was the same in both banks.

The trial of those officials will doubtless disclose to the public the manner in which they conducted the affairs of the bank and the methods adopted to plunder depositors.

Rose Coghlan, the actress, has applied for a patent for a safe in which she so disposes dynamite that if a burglar attempts to break into it he will blow himself up.

Sander's Men Provided for by the Governor of Kansas.

WORLD'S FAIR DIPLOMAS.

Marion C. Butler Favors Postal Telegraph Stations.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

Militia Called Out in Utah—The Government Providing for Sander's Men in Kansas.

HAVERT, Iowa, May 12.—Kelley's navy arrived here to-day. Kelley disbanded a company with which was a woman from Des Moines, because they refused to compel her to leave.

PROVO, Utah, May 12.—Carter's band of Coxeyites seized a Union Pacific engine here to-day, attached it to Rio Grande Western cars and started east. Before getting out of town the train was derailed by an open switch. The Industrials are working hard to put the engine back on the track. A special carrying Marshal Brigham and deputies have started for Provo.

SALT LAKE, May 12.—The Sheriff at Provo has called upon the Governor for assistance, and he goes down at 1 o'clock on a special train with two companies of militia.

TOPEKA, May 12.—Sander's Coxeyites are still in camp here under United States Marshal Neeley. The Government is now providing them with food. Many of the men are wearing buttoned coats donated by ladies.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Tents were struck at "Camp Tyranny" to-day and the army started for the new camp at Hyattsville, Md.

BOISE, Idaho, May 12.—About 250 Commonwealers passed east yesterday on the Union Pacific trains. The company hauls them under protest, but has concluded it is cheaper to let them ride than to sidetrack the trains and stop traffic. There are about 500 along the line in Oregon. One hundred and twenty-five were at La Grande last night.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH STATIONS.

The President of the Farmers' Alliance in Favor of Them.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Marion C. Butler, President of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, made an argument before the House Committee on Postoffices in support of postal telegraph stations. The Alliance favors the postal telegraph scheme because it would correct an evil of monopoly.

Representative Maguire of California also spoke, in continuation of his argument, on the subject which he began last week. He declared the telegraph business is a monopoly; that an attempt to meet it by private competition would result in no benefit to the people; consequently the Government ought to assume charge of the business. He believed for $25,000,000 the present Western Union plant could be duplicated and the people would not have to pay the interest on $90,000,000 capitalization in stock which does not represent actual investment. Replying to questions, he said he did not think any one could perform the work of the postal service as cheap as the Government. This remark led Representative Lord of California to remark that he was willing to take a four-year contract for the work at $50,000,000 per year.

Sundry difficulties that would possibly arise in the transfer of the telegraph to the Government were suggested by members of the committee, but Mr. Maguire believed these could be overcome or obviated in ways that would not work hardship on the telegraph companies.

World's Fair Diplomas.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Counterfeiting World's Fair diplomas and medals of awards for advertising purposes will be put a stop to if the Treasury Department can do it.

Photographic copies of diplomas and medals of award are being published in the newspapers. As a matter of fact, the design of the medals has not yet been made, and the diplomas, it is stated, are not yet issued, while some of the firms using the diplomas in the newspapers in connection with their business have not received any awards for their goods.

The law provides a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for five years as the maximum penalty for its violation, and Chief Hazen says the guilty parties will be prosecuted.

Reported Favorably.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The bill of Representative Crain of Texas, to change the date for the assembling of Congress, was favorably reported to the House. It provides the first session of each Congress shall begin the first Tuesday after March 4th, instead of waiting until the following December. The second session is to begin on the first Monday in January, instead of December, as at present.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Trouble in Getting a Quorum in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—On roll call of the Senate at 11 o'clock twenty-eight Senators responded, fifteen less than a quorum. Twenty-five minutes passed before enough absentees were found to make up a quorum.

Dolph moved to adjourn, but withdrew his motion upon the suggestion of Chandler that the motion violated the agreement entered into just before adjournment last night to take up the tariff bill at 12 o'clock each day.

The bill was passed placing Major-General George S. Green on the retired list of the army as First Lieutenant.

At 12 o'clock the tariff bill was taken up, the pending question being the amendment to increase the duty on tannic acid, or tannin, from 35 to 75 cents per pound. Jones offered a substitute of 60 for 75 cents.

Telegraphic Notes.

Senator Wolcott has gone to Paris for medical treatment.

The varnish works at Akron, Ohio, were burned yesterday, loss $100,000.

The miners of Cantrill and Muddy valleys, Illinois, joined the strikers yesterday.

O. V. Bellinger of San Jose, Cal., was killed yesterday by the bank of an irrigating ditch which caved on him.

S. B. Loper, who murdered his two children at Archie, Missouri, three years ago, has been captured at Red Bluff, Cal.

The weekly statement of New York banks shows a reserve decrease of $2,175,575 and an increase in loans of $2,434,600.

Sanol bronze statue of Columbus in Central Park, New York, was unveiled yesterday. Vice President Stevenson and Chauncey M. Depew were the speakers.

Incendiaries poured gasoline over the bedding in the Fire Department Station at Sioux City, Iowa, and set fire to it. Electrician Provost and Captain Hilders slid down a post to set the horses free and both were seriously injured.

While a salute was being fired on the British cruiser Galatea in honor of the arrival of the German fleet at Edinburgh, an explosion occurred blowing Instructor Lawrence to pieces and tearing an arm off Instructor Whitehead, besides injuring several of the crew.

The National Convention of Hibernians elected H. J. O'Connor of Georgia President; John C. Weadock of Michigan, Vice President; L. J. Slattery of New York, Secretary; J. P. Dundon of Ohio, Treasurer, and M. H. Wilber of Pennsylvania, Chairman of National Directors.

As Charles Kenyon and wife were driving near Corvallis, Oregon, Friday night they were fired on by Dr. J. M. Applewait who was lying in wait for them. Applewait and Mrs. Kenyon disappeared and yesterday morning were found lying side by side. The woman was dead from the effects of morphine and Applewait had two gashes in his neck and cuts in his wrists made in an attempt to open the arteries. He was conscious and told the officers he intended to kill Kenyon. Applewait and Mrs. Kenyon had been intimate.

GOLD CONTRACTS.

New York banks require other banks which borrow money of them to sign notes payable in gold. The State Bank Commissioner of Kansas, having learned that Kansas banks were complying with the demands of the New Yorkers, issued an order calling attention to the laws of Kansas, which prohibit contracts from being made in gold or other money than the lawful money of the United States. The Commissioner requests that all banks under the control of his department refrain from signing any note or obligation payable in anything other than lawful money of the United States.

The New York gold ring is intent on making gold dearer than it now is, by demanding that all obligations shall be made payable in that money only. They are not satisfied with government notes, but insist on having coin of which, according to statisticians, there is not enough in the world to pay the interest, much less the principal, of public and private debts.

If Shakespeare was writing to-day he would substitute "Goldbug" for "Shylock" in his Merchant of Venice. The greed of the Venetian money lender does not compare with that of the New York goldbug.

THE New York World says "there would be a much more hopeful feeling in this country at present were it not for Trusts and Tramps." Why does not the goldbug World insist on the repeal of the laws that are responsible for Trusts and Tramps? We have today an Administration and a Congress, nominally Democratic, yet it has not passed an act to reduce the number of trusts, and only one to reduce the number of tramps, and that was promptly vetoed, and the veto was sustained by Republicans.

REPUBLICAN PROSPERITY.

The Good Times the People Enjoyed Under Republican Administrations Analyzed.

"The strongest argument in favor of a Republican victory next Fall that can be framed is the memory of the good times the people of this country enjoyed under Republican administration."—Gazette.

Now, let us see what some other authorities have to say about the good old times which the people were enjoying under the Republican administration.

Senator Ingalls of Kansas, a Republican of national reputation, in a speech in the United States Senate, delivered on January 14, 1891, described the situation in this country as follows:

"So it happens, Mr. President, that our society is becoming rapidly stratified, almost hopelessly stratified, into a condition of superfluously rich and helplessly poor. We are accustomed to speak of this as the land of the free and the home of the brave. It will soon be the home of the rich and the land of the slave. A financial system under which more than one-half of the enormous wealth of the country derived from the bounty of nature and the labor of all is owned by a little more than thirty thousand people, while over a million American citizens, able and willing to toil, are homeless tramps starving for bread, requires adjustment."

Evidently Mr. Ingalls had an opinion as to the great prosperity which was abroad in the land under the last Republican administration.

Now, let us see what other authorities have to say about Republican prosperity. Discussing the condition of the American people, Mr. Flower, in the January, 1893, number of the Arena said:

"At my request Mr. W. P. McLaughlin recently investigated the subject of evictions in New York City. He had access to the court records and was enabled to present facts as incontrovertible as they were appalling. First, it was shown that while the number of evictions in Ireland during the year 1890 was a little over 5,000, the eviction warrants in New York City during the same period reached the total of 23,000; while the number of eviction warrants for one judicial district in the tenement region of New York last year reached the enormous figure of 6,100, or about a thousand in excess of the entire number of evictions in Ireland in 1890. Second, that in the City of New York, for the year ending September 1, 1892, the eviction warrants issued reached the appalling aggregate of 29,720. Third, as Mr. McLaughlin indicated, if we allow five persons to the family, which is the usual ratio in computing population, we have a grand total of 148,600 human beings who were outcasts to all intents and purposes in one of the most wealthy cities of the world."

This all happened under a Republican administration, and the 29,720 eviction warrants were issued long before the Presidential election of 1892, and after the benevolent McKinley law had been in force for more than a year. Having refreshed the Gazette's memory about the condition of the people under the last Republican administration, now let us go back to the period immediately after the international bondholders had succeeded in getting the Republican administration to destroy the currency and demonetize silver and see the condition of the people at that time. Quoting from Bob Ingersoll, their condition was as follows:

"No man can imagine, all of the languages of the world cannot express, what the people of the United States suffered from 1873 to 1879. Men who considered themselves millionaires found that they were beggars; men living in palaces supposing they had enough to give sunshine to the winter of their age, supposing they had enough to leave all they loved in affluence and comfort, suddenly found that they were mendicants with stocks, bonds, mortgages all turned to ashes in their hands. The chimneys grew cold, the fires in furnaces went out, the poor families were turned adrift and the highways of the United States were crowded with tramps."

To prove that the Republican administrations have been used to assist the bondholders in fleecing the people out of their earnings, we will quote a little more ancient history. In 1874, after the fangs of contraction were bleeding the country at every pore, General John A. Logan pleaded the cause of the people most ably and fearlessly. In one of his speeches, March, 1874, he quoted approvingly from the Berrien county (Mich.) Record as follows:

"The people have and do realize that their most prosperous times were when currency was most plentiful. It is true it was not so good for the money lender and the capitalist, but for the laborer, the manufacturer, the producer—three-fourths of the entire country—it was far better than it is today."

He then goes on to say:

"Why is it that Representatives forget the interests of their own section and stand up here as the advocates of the gold brokers and money lenders and sharks, the same class of men whose lashed Christ turned over, and whom he lashed out of the Temple at Jerusalem. Carry out the theory of the contractionists and what must be the inevitable result. Every enterprise and industry must be dwarfed in like proportion. The busy hum of the spindle will cease its sound in many a mill which now gives employment to hundreds of active hands and supplies the comforts of life to many a happy home."

After quoting these authorities we will now leave it to the people to draw their own conclusions as to whether the contraction of the currency has not had more to do with the present tough times than the Wilson bill or the McKinley law?

A PREHISTORIC PARK.

A Movement to Set Apart the Mancos Region as a National Park. (Salt Lake News.)

A movement has been instituted in southern Colorado to have the region known as the Mancos set apart as a national park, and petitions are being circulated and freely signed and will be forwarded to Congress asking that body to pass the necessary enactment. The object of the request is to secure protection of the region which contains the most interesting cliff dwellers' habitations to be found in the United States. That district is being stripped of prehistoric relics by visitors and curiosity hunters, and those who live in that vicinity want a stop put to such proceedings and to have the district reserved as a field for archaeological research and the retention of the cliff dwellers' habitations and remains.

In the Mancos were obtained the most wonderful results of archaeological exploration that have been secured in the United States. The district includes almost the whole of Montezuma county, Colorado, part of San Juan county, Utah, and reaches into Arizona and New Mexico. The principal sections are the Mancos, McElmo and Montezuma canons. Of the latter, the chief portion is in Utah. The Mancos and McElmo rivers and Montezuma creek are all tributaries of San Juan river, and unite with it close to the southeast corner of Utah. As the number of inhabitants increases in that section, the ruins will become more accessible and their preservation will afford opportunity for interesting and thorough investigation.

One of the first cliff houses discovered in the Mancos is over 600 feet from the bottom of the canon, in a niche of the mountain wall. Five hundred feet of the ascent to this aerial dwelling is comparatively easy, but the remaining 100 feet has to be made up in an almost perpendicular cliff in the face of the rock. There on a ledge ten feet wide and twenty feet in length, is located a two-story house, with three rooms on the ground floor. There is a reservoir for water, reached from the window by descending on a series of cedar pegs about a foot apart. The workmanship of the structure is of superior order, the perpendiculars being true ones and the angles carefully squared. The rooms are smoothly plastered with a thin layer of cement, colored a deep maroon, while white band eight inches wide has been painted around the room at both floor and ceiling. This is a sample of the buildings which are to be found in great variety of size and form, some being circular, some square with all the combinations of shape rendered necessary by the situation in which they were built. Some of them occupy positions the inaccessibility of which is a wonder when considered as places of residence for human beings. Besides these dwellings there are remarkable watch towers, circular and square, burial places, cave fortresses, etc., in profusion.

These curious structures line the McElmo and Montezuma canons as well as the Mancos. They are also found plentifully along the San Juan, those in Utah being not less remarkable and interesting than those found further east. In Utah have been found more burial places than elsewhere in the district, some of the remains therein being remarkably well preserved. While with most of these there can be traced a resemblance to the modern Moquis Indians, yet there have been discovered the types of a race of light complexioned people whose occupancy of the land antedated that of the cliff dwellers. If the movement for protecting the Mancos is successful, it is possible that at some future day a thorough investigation will reveal features that will be of great historic value.

What's in the air? Strikers and industrial armies seem to be the order of the day. Ninety boys in the glass works at Muncie, Indiana, have struck for a raise of ten cents, and two hundred men are idle on account of the strike. Only a week ago the boys in a Massachusetts factory struck and they have not yet resumed work.

Kaiser of Churchill county, and John Cahlan and family of Susanville.

As usual the Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House has some good things to offer for this week, and the ladies of Reno and vicinity are invited to call and make their first choice. They received an elegant line of cap and some of them are to be seen in one of their large show windows. They also received a line of beautiful figured Henriettas, 36 inches wide, at 20 cents per yard, a very good thing for summer. Lisle thread gauntlets in all colors at 25 cents per pair. Special for this week only they will sell 100 pieces of standard calicoes in light, medium and dark at 5 cents per yard.

RACE BALL AT VERDI.

The College Nine Get Away With the Verdict.

Yesterday morning a party of young people left town in true coaching style, six-in-hand, trumpeter and all, bound for Verdi. The party consisted of the University base ball club, and the T. H. P. O. and guests, the event being a contest between the University nine and the Verdi club.

The game was well played and interesting. The score stood: University, 37; Verdi, 28. Professor Thurtell acted as umpire.

The University nine consisted of J. Egan, M. Flood, Lem Osborne, C. Loder, P. Stewart, J. Magill, M. Ward, J. Higgins and B. Cahlan. The Verdi players were Lapoint, Smith, Hill, Foulks, King, Larrity, Mitchell, Miller and Brady.

A feature of the game was the phenomenal pitching of L. Miller of the Verdi nine. He was changed to this position during the progress of the game and proved a surprise to the University boys. It was next to impossible to bat a ball pitched by him, and had he taken this position earlier in the game the score would have been much smaller, and the result of the game would have probably been reversed.

The University boys and friends speak highly of their entertainment at Verdi and came home well pleased with their day's outing.

INDUSTRIALS AT LOVELOCKS.

A Number of Them Arrested by the Officers.

The detachment of Sacramento Industrials which arrived here Thursday night and Friday in squads, left on east-bound freight trains Friday night. The train men say that one or two of them rode on every car so as to guard against being switched off on a side track. At Lovelocks the train was sidetracked with about sixty men on board. They refused to leave the train and Constable Cozzens telegraphed Sheriff Hadley at Winnemucca for assistance. The Industrials made no resistance, but positively refused to leave the train unless under arrest. They said they had no objection to being placed under arrest, as they wanted something to eat, and knew the officers would not starve prisoners.

And the Glad Result of Taking HOOD'S.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Last March I had to give up work, completely worn out. I felt tired all the time; had frequent headaches, and spells of dizziness; I had no appetite, and what little I did eat, did not do me any good. My wife was feeling about the same. I went to the drug store, and called for Hood's Sarsaparilla. The druggist said he was out of Hood's, but that he could give me a medicine made from about the same formula, just as good. I bought a bottle and carried it home, and wife and I took it faithfully. That bottle was finished and we could see no improvement. A second and then a third bottle followed, when my wife declared she would take it no longer, as she believed she felt worse than she did before taking it. We put the third bottle away half full, and I went to the drug-store and got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and a box of Hood's Pills. In less than a week

We began to improve. We began to relish our food, and it didn't distress us as before. That tired worn-out feeling left us gradually, and after taking five bottles, we called ourselves well, and gave Hood's Sarsaparilla the credit it deserves. Whenever I take a severe cold I always take three of Hood's Pills at night, and in the morning my cold is broken. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills are a complete medicine chest in themselves, and I heartily recommend them to everyone."
